

British visitor Michael Bridge wins second annual Elegant Hotels Golf Tournament

BRITISH visitor, Michael Bridge, is the winner of the second annual Elegant Hotels Golf Tournament held at the Apes Hill Golf Club recently.

Bridge, a guest at the Group's Crystal Cove property, captured the title after competing against a field of 39 other golfers from across the five Elegant west coast hotels including Crystal Cove, Colony Club, Tamarind, The House and Waves Hotel and Spa.

Colony Club guest Sue Johnson and Waves Hotel and Spa guest Robert Caldecott, took second and third place respectively.

Gayle Talma, Elegant Hotels Group Operations Director, thanked all the golfers for participating and noted that the tournament was a great success: "We started last year and the response was tremendous.

This year it was even better as we doubled the number of players.

"At Elegant we are always looking for ways to create memorable experiences for our guests and this is just one such activity – a fun-filled afternoon of golf and friendly rivalry amongst guests and between the hotels. The tournament is complimentary for all our guests and is a thank you for their patronage and loyalty to our properties which they really enjoy. Many of them are already planning to be back in Barbados for next year's event."
