

Bajan Santa delighted the guests with his limbo dancing and his traditional Barbadian dance moves.

Kids Club Manager at Crystal Cove Hotel Stephanie Mayers said the Crystal Cove Enchanted Forest was a way for guests to become acquainted with Barbadian culture.

Bajan Santa delights

CRYSTAL COVE GUESTS GET A TASTE OF BARBADIAN CULTURE

Guests at the Crystal Cove Hotel enjoyed the hotel's Enchanted Forest event which showcased Barbadian culture and norms through music and limbo dancing. There was also an exhibition of various animals from the Water Room Pet Store. The guests, many of whom are returning visitors, also took photos with the dancing elves and on the sleigh ride.

Kids Club Manager at the hotel Stephanie Mayers said the show, now in its sixth year, aimed to give guests a taste of Barbadian culture.

"We are just here this evening to have some fun with our guests. We have lots of repeats in-house and lots of new visitors to the island and we thought it was important that we give them a piece of Barbados and a bit of our culture," she said, adding that the theme this year was to have a 'Bajan Santa Claus'.

"We have our Bajan Santa and the dancing elves along with the petting zoo, face painting and lots of Bajan Christmas music, delicacies and just fun for the guests," Mayers said.

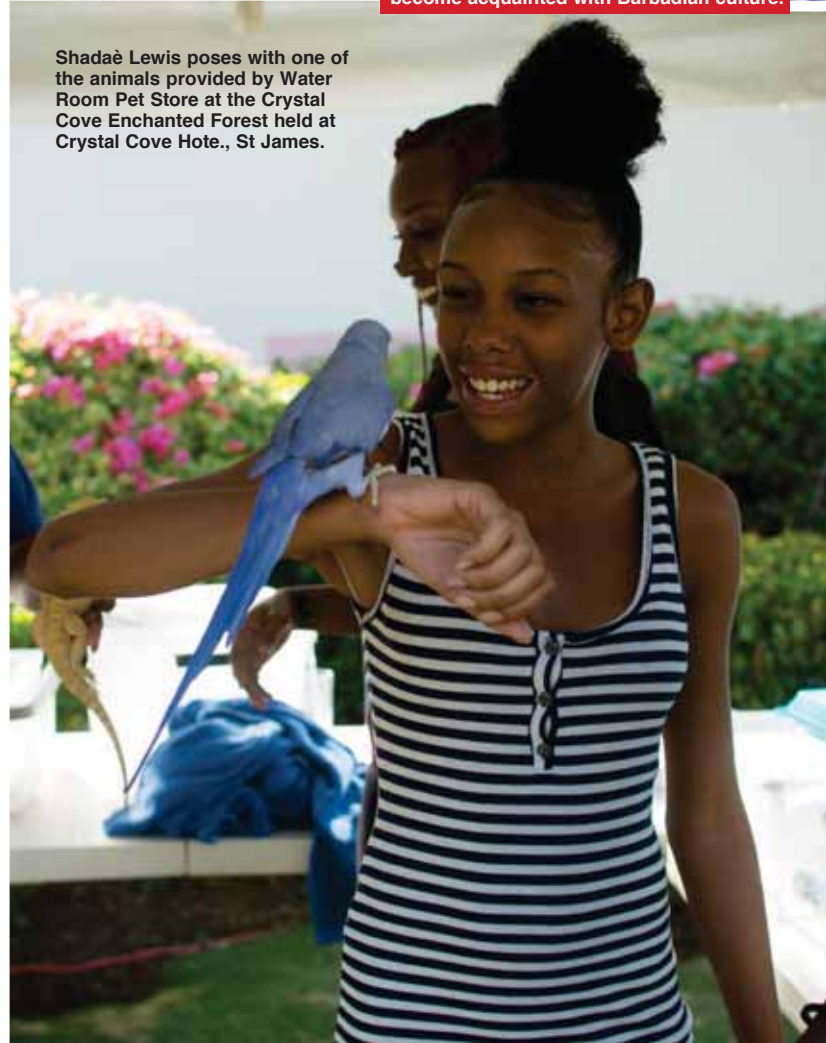

Mayers told the media that guests look forward to the event each year and that the new Bajan Santa was a definite hit.

"We have from the oldest to the youngest enjoying themselves. Yes, all of our guests, especially the repeats in-house, look forward to make it better and improve on it," she said, adding that about 60 to 70 per cent of the hotel guests attended the event.

One elderly lady showed Bajan Santa that she could still shake a leg with him as the resident DJ played the popular song Maize. (LG)

Shadaè Lewis poses with one of the animals provided by Water Room Pet Store at the Crystal Cove Enchanted Forest held at Crystal Cove Hote., St James.

The dancing elves encouraged some of the guests to dance to some of the popular Barbadian Christmas songs.